

CONSULTANCY

The Consultancy Cell at Amrita Sai Institute of Science and Technology, Paritala provides expert solutions to industries and organizations, leveraging the college's academic and research expertise. The cell offers consultancy services in various engineering disciplines, including mechanical, electrical, civil, and computer science. Faculty members and students work together to deliver innovative solutions, conduct research, and provide training programs, fostering industry-academia collaboration and knowledge transfer. By engaging in consultancy work, Amrita Sai Institute of Science and Technology contributes to the region's economic development while enhancing its research and teaching capabilities