TalentAP

TalentAP is an industry-oriented skill development and employability platform that supports higher education institutions in enhancing students' career readiness. The platform offers structured training in aptitude, technical skills, coding, communication, and professional competencies through continuous learning, assessments, and performance monitoring. TalentAP serves as an effective bridge between academic education and industry expectations by promoting outcome-based learning, improving employability, and preparing students for internships and campus placements.

Amritasai Engineering College has actively partnered with the TalentAP initiative as part of its continuous efforts to strengthen student employability and industry preparedness. The institution has facilitated student registration, regular training sessions, periodic assessments, progress monitoring, and skill enhancement activities through the platform. This active participation has contributed to improving students' technical knowledge, aptitude, communication skills, and placement readiness while reinforcing the institution's commitment to quality education, industry collaboration, outcome-based education (OBE), and continuous improvement in alignment with NAAC and NBA quality standards.
